PREFACE.

One of the most pleasing and encouraging evidences of the increasing influence of Divine truth on the world, is the disposition and the ability which the great Head of the church is giving to his servants to acquire a knowledge of the various languages which are spoken by the different tribes of the human family, and to the natives, in some instances, to obtain a knowledge of the English, whereby a door is opened for mutual assistance in translating the sacred Scriptures and other religious and devotional books into those languages.

The same Holy Spirit, who, by his miraculous influence, enabled the apostles on the day of pentecost to declare to men of different nations in their own tongue the lively oracles of truth, is now by his ordinary, but not less important operations, giving unto the messengers of the churches that decision of mind, that ardent zeal, and that untiring industry, by which they speedily overcome the difficulties which attend the acquisition of barbarous languages, and enables them from the pulpit and through the press, to pour the light of evangelical truth upon the different tribes of men, who were previously sitting in darkness and in the region of the shadow of death, and perishing for want of knowledge.

To the numerous and widely extended Ojibway tribes of the American continent, the attention of the pious and benevolent has been providentially turned; and to these interesting, but despised and injured people, the life-giving means of christian instruction have been afforded in their own language: the Gospel has been preached, and the holy Scriptures and devotional hymns have been translated; so that, while from the former they learn the character, the relations, and the merciful designs of Jehovah, in the appropriate and spiritual language of the latter they can praise him as the Author of their existence, the Preserver of their lives, the Redeemer of their souls, and the everlasting source of their present and eternal happiness.

Already have two editions of the Ojibway Hymn Book, translated and printed under the direction of the Methodist church, passed through the press; but the increasing number of our mission stations, our hearers, and members, requires a third and more enlarged edition. This has been prepared with great care, having passed through a vigilant examination before several of our most enlightened native brethren, at different stations. Assisted by the generous liberality of the American Tract Society, we present this work to the public, sincerely praying that, by the Divine blessing, it may be the means of promoting in the minds of our Indian communities that true spirit of devotion, which in all parts of the world, and amongst men of every colour and every language, characterizes the circumcision who worship God in spirit and in truth, rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

JOSEPH STINSON,

General Superintendent of Canadian Missions.

KINGSTON, 3d August, 1837.

BY THE TRANSLATORS.

Every exertion has been used to render this work acceptable to the Ojibways in all the various mission stations.

The words throughout have been divided into syllables, in order to assist the reader, and especially the natives, so that by a careful attention to the following Synopsis of Orthography—simple, but efficient—the Indians, the missionaries, and others if desirous, will be enabled, with a little application, to read the Hymns with ease and accuracy.

Some errors may have escaped—a circumstance which is almost unavoidable in a work of this nature;—when found, please to correct rather than censure.

JAMES EVANS,
GEORGE HENRY.

T

Talk with us, Lord	227
That great, mysterious Deity	276
The church in her militant state	88
The counsels of redeeming grace	322
The great archangel's trump	69
Thee, Jesus, full of truth	274
Thee we adore, Eternal Name	45
Thee will I love, my Strength	223
The great, mysterious God, unknown	141
The Lord of earth and sky	352
The Lord of Sabbath let us praise	323
The morning flowers	51
The praying spirit breathe	112
There is a land of pure delights	89
This languishing head is at rest	53
Thou hidden Source of calm repose	221
Though troubles assail	241
Thou God unsearchable, unknown	159
Thou Judge of quick and dead	67
Thou Man of Grievs, remember me	205
Thou, O Christ, art all I want	179
Thou Lord on whom I still depend	78
Thou Son of God	93
Try us, O God, and search the ground	104

U

Unchangeable, almighty Lord	-	105
Urge on your rapid course	-	249

W

Weary of wand'ring from my God		214
Weary souls that wander wide	-	30
We by his Spirit prove	- -	140
We know, by faith we know	-	83
Welcome sweet day of rest	-	318
What now is my object and aim		288
When, gracious Lord, when shall it be		187
When I can read my title clear		270
When quiet in my house I sit	-	334
When shall I see the welcome hour		307
When shall thy love constrain	-	167
Where shall my wond'ring soul		39
Wherewith, O Lord, shall I draw near		156
While dead in trespasses I lie	-	166
While shepherds watch their flocks		348
Who are these array'd in white		87
Who can now lament the lot	-	58
Who can resolve the doubt	-	47
Who is this gigantic foe	- -	250
Why do we mourn for dying friends		62
Why not now, my God, my God		304
Why should the children	- -	102

With glorious clouds encompass'd	158
With joy we meditate           -       -	277
Woe to the men on earth       -       -	72

Y

Ye faithful souls, who Jesus know	307
Ye ransom'd sinners, hear       -	282
Yes, from this instant now, I will	203
Ye thirsty for God       -       -       -	21
Yield to me now, for I am weak	174
